

ABSTRACT

A method for treatment of oils and fats of high saturated fatty acid content whose treatment has been difficult, especially waste oils and fats and discharged oils and fats, characterized in that the oils and fats just prior to hydrolysis is subjected to ozone treatment and light irradiation treatment.